Fruit Cake Collects $5 For Mrs. Bergamini

A "Seven-Up Fruit Cake", considered an excellent Thanksgiving holiday item, has won $5 for Mrs. Marie Bergamini in The Sun's weekly contest for all area homemakers.

Mrs. Bergamini, a resident of 531 Soto Street, Martinez, also commented in her entry, "The recipe can easily be doubled. There are no eggs in the recipe."

You too can win $5 by sending your favorite recipe to The Sun at either 1001 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette, or 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

Judging is by impartial experts. Send in only one recipe at a time, but there is no limit on the number of recipes you submit over a period of time.

Here is the winning entry for the week:

"SEVEN-UP" FRUIT CAKE

2 cups sifted flour
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. sale
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. cloves
2 tbsp. cocoa
1 cup "Seven-up"
1 cup raisins
1 cup mixed glazed fruits
½ cup glazed cherries
½ cup melted shortening (half butter
1 cup chopped nuts.

a. To "Seven-Up" add raisins and glazed fruits. Set aside for about a half hour.
b. Sift all dry ingredients together.
c. Add melted shortening to "Seven-Up" and fruits. (item 1).
d. Add dry ingredients, mix well.
e. Put in greased loaf pan, about 9x5 inches.
f. Bake for about 45-50 minutes at 350 degrees.
g. Let cool.
h. Sift powdered sugar over cake.

CHP Warns of Fog Hazards

With one of winter's "most treacherous driving hazards"—fog — now confronting motorists almost daily, Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden offered several tips on fog driving.

"Always use the low headlight beam. The high beam reflects off water droplets and can blind you. Never use parking lights; they not only are ineffective but are illegal to use as driving lights. Even if visibility appears adequate without headlights, turn them on. It will help the other driver see you.

"Increase your following distance. A sudden slowdown ahead then won't find you short of room to stop.

"Decrease your speed. You won't be overdriving your visibility range.

Grass Flies After Only One Sun Day

A Lawn-Boy power mower was sold by L. H. Searight, 3340 Rowland Drive, Lafayette, with a single Sun want ad.

One Sun want ad sold a double bed, bookcase, boxspring and frame for Robert Desdier, 292 Oakview Road, Pleasant Hill.

And A. L. Sullivan, also of Pleasant Hill, sold a girl's 24-inch bike with a single ad in The Sun.

Sun want ads frequently sell goods after only one appearance in Sun publications. So frequently our "success stories" are everyday affairs.

This is because of the big 5-in-1 pulling power of The Sun classified section.

A single ad in The Sun appears in all five Sun publications: the 58,000-circulation Sun Shopping News, The Orinda Sun, The Pleasant Hill Sun, The Walnut Creek Sun and The Lafayette Sun.

A 14-word ad costs only $1.60, even less for multiple runs. Call a Sun adwriter at 934-5000 or 284-4444.

One Sun want ad can tell a "success story" for you!

Central Fire Annex Clears Second Step

Approval was given Wednesday by the Contra Costa Boundary Commission for the city of Pleasant Hill's proposed annexation to the Central Fire District.

The 785 acres, including Gregory Gardens and College Park, is now served by the Mt. Diablo Fire District.

Pleasant Hill city councilmen adopted a resolution Monday night seeking the withdrawal and annexation, since the Central District, which covers Walnut Creek, already serves about 80 per cent of the new city.

Commuter's Plan Won't Solve 'Tunnel Behavior'

A psychological interpretation of commuter behavior resulted this week from rejection of a motorist's plan to alleviate the Caldecott Tunnel bottleneck.

The Division of Highways and The Sun received letters last week from Bernard F. Trimpe of Lafayette, who asked why the division couldn't route traffic into three lanes from Caldecott Tunnel during rush hours.

In the ensuing discussions, the division's Jack Grassburger said that the present problem was the tunnel itself, and added that there was a pattern of "tunnel behavior" among commuters which further slowed traffic.

GRASSBURGER said that he had replied to Trimpe, indicating that, until the third Caldecott bore was completed, an increase in lanes would serve no purpose.

He also told The Sun that drivers tend to decrease their speed markedly in the tunnel.

"No one likes to enter a dark hole," he said.

Increased lighting at the portals of the tunnel resulted in a greater and faster flow of traffic, Grassburger said, and explained that more gradual transition from light to dark caused motorists to "pull back" less.

Complete bright lighting of the tunnel is planned when the third bore is completed, he said.

"THERE IS LITTLE gained with a label, but you might call part of this reaction simple claustrophobia," a phsychologist in Walnut Creek told The Sun.

Dr. Jack Little of the Institute for Social and Personal Relations said that he knew of no studies of freeway and tunnel behavior, but indicated that engineers might give more weight to psychological factors in future planning.

Better lighting, illusory painting and means to control tunnel sounds might decrease unusual behavior in tunnels, the doctor said, but added that complete study of the problem was required before psychological factors can be evaluated.

"Such studies are already affecting city planning and building design," he said.

Dr. Little pointed out that motorists on mountain roads tend to crowd away from the drop-off, but can be provided more psychological security with simple markers or rails which have little effect on physical security.

He said that use of new tunnel shapes and surfaces might similarly relieve motorists in tunnels.

THE ECHO distortion of the Doppler sound effect (increase or decrease in pitch of sound from a moving object) is another factor which may trouble the tunnel driver, the doctor said.

The suggestion from Trimpe which led indirectly to phychological considerations was that rubber traffic guides be used to route commute traffic into three lanes from the tunnel to Orinda in the evening and west of the tunnel in the morning. Grassburger said that traffic could not move faster than it moves at its most constricted point, and explained that the freeway will be widened to eight lanes on either side of the tunnel when Caldecott Three is completed next year.

Insurance Women Hear Claims Talk

Local insurance women met Wednesday at Kellogg's in Walnut Creek to hear Ralph G. Capps, claims manager of the Members Insurance Company in Oakland speak on presentation of claims. The women, members of the Insurance Women's Association of East Contra Costa County, welcomed new member Phyllis Young. Mrs. Young is employed with Richard Nourse of Concord, and lives in Walnut Creek.

Plans were made for the association's December 14 Christmas party to be held at the Walnut Hills Country Club.

Transport Plan for Nine Counties Seen Big Task

It will take about four years and $4,000,000 to produce an adequate, comprehensive transportation plan for the nine-county San Francisco Bay Area, the Legislature has been informed by the State Highway Transportation Agency.

The estimate is contained in a prospectus sent to each member of the Legislature in compliance with a request contained in Senate Concurrent Resolution 20 of the 1962 session.

The counties involved are San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano.

"WE ARE DEALING with the needs of a future super-metropolitan area which is expected to be the seventh largest in the nation by the year 2000," said Administrator Robert B. Bradford of the Highway Transportation Agency.

Since World War II more than $1,500,000,000 has been invested, with another $7,000,000,000 expected to be invested in the next 18 years, by the state, the cities, the counties and transit districts for highways, bridges, streets and transit lines.

"In view of this investment, a reasonable expenditure for a comprehensive study to form the basis for coordinated and continuous transportation planning appears warranted.

We have tried to give the Legislature some information and ideas on which to base a policy decision on what the next steps should be."

THE STATE Division of Highways, in preparing the prospectus with the assistance of other governmental agencies and civic groups in the Bay Area, found that there have been some 930 separate studies and reports published since World War II covering land use, transportation economic development and population.

While these reports contain much useful information, the prospectus points out, they are limited in scope or purpose and cannot serve as the basis for a comprehensive study.

The prospectus suggests the creation of a Regional Study Policy Committee consisting of approximately 30 members to be responsible for the study.

Financing would come from various sources, including State, Federal and local funds.

THE PROSPECTUS also points out that a number of transportation decisions will almost certainly have to be made by existing agencies before a comprehensive study could be completed.

It recommends that the advice of the study group should be sought and made available on an informal basis to assist in these interim decisions.

"The plan should be realistic in terms of attainable goals and comprehensive in considering all forms of transportation," the states.

"It should be adequate to fulfill the transportation demands with reasonable standards of service.

It should be consistent with, and help to achieve, desired land use development, and should be cognizant of the social and political impacts of a transportation plan upon the region. It should also be feasible in economic and financial terms.

"Conduct of a study to develop such a regional transportation plan will require a broad-scale effort, involving land use planning, population and economic development studiese, studies of transportation facilities, and patterns, and participation by all levels of government."

Crippled Child's Group Has Meeting

The Contra Costa County Crippled Children's Society held its November meeting in Martinez. President Mrs. Manuel Nunes of Port Chicago presided.

The financial report was given by Mrs. Peter Jarrett of Pleasant Hill and the new budget was adopted.

Mrs. J. Elkins of Concord, campership chairman, said she is receiving applications for the summer camp vacation for handicapped children.

Boys and girls will be sent to camps equipped to handle and care for their particular handicap, thus giving both the child and the parents a vacation. She said this project replaced the day-camp which had been sponsored by the society in past years.

Two new directors are Mrs. Neil Sterud of Oakley and Mrs. Ray S. Veregge of Concord.

Santa Claus to Arrive In Lafayette December 8

Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive at the Lafayette plaza on December 8, at 11 a.m., it was announced this week.

James Brown, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Christmas committee, told The Sun that this year's holiday theme for Lafayette was an "Old Fashioned Christmas."

Santa will have a helper this year, Brown said.

His name is "Laffy" but that's all that is known about him, Brown claimed.

However, Laffy is guaranteed to do a "real funny character that everyone, youngsters and adults alike, will enjoy, Brown said.

SANTA WILL appear throughout Lafayette's downtown area on each Saturday preceeding Christmas as well as the Sunday, Monday and Tuesday before Christmas.

Each day Santa will be located in one of four locations, Brown said.

The four areas where the youngsters can visit Santa are the Plaza, Lifiesta Square, the shopping center, where Acalanes Pharmacy and Lafayette Federal Savings are located, and the western business of Mt. Diablo Boulevard near Johanson's Baby News.

Lafayette merchants will decorate trees in the old fashioned way, Brown said.

There will be a cash award to the merchant who does the best job in accordance with the theme.

Santa will be loaded with of apples for the youngsters, Brown said.

Young Local Musician May Win Big Chance

Opportunity for a young musician from this county to appear as soloist with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra is being offered again this year by the Contra Costa Concert Guild.

The student selected after auditions by the guild and the symphony will appear with the symphony at its youth concert in the Pittsburg Creative Arts Building on Thursday afternoon, next March 28.

Piano, string or wind instruments will be acceptable this year, according to Miss Mary E. O'Connell, music supervisor of the Antioch Unified School District, and the guild's youth concert chairman.

Applicants must be residents of Contra Costa County and be between the ages of 12 and 21 years.

Each must know a standard concerto or concerto movement, and no simplified editions will be accepted, Miss O'Connell said.

Selection of a student performer was begun by the concert guild last year when Henry F. Melendres, Jr., of Concord, was piano soloist at the youth concert.

A graduate of Mt. Diablo High School, young Melendres is studying with Marcus Gordon of San Francisco and is working toward a degree at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. After his initial performance, he made four other appearances with the symphony during the season.

Application may be made by letter to Miss Mary E. O'Connell, 2801 Garrow Drive, Antioch, on or before January 2.

Preliminary auditions will be held on January 20, and the final auditions and selection will be made by the San Francisco Symphony.

Girls, Mothers Will Learn of Home Ec Career

The fifth annual "Career Hirizons In Home Economics" reception for junior and senior high school girls and their mothers and teachers is being planned for November 27 at the Diablo Valley College Cafeteria.

Refreshments will be served at 3:30 p.m., and at 4 p.m. a panel of home economists will explain career possibilities in Home Economics.

The reception is sponsored by the Diablo Valley Chapter of Home Economists In Homemaking. Mrs. M. R. Elliott, president of the organization, said the purpose of the reception is to acquaint the girls and their mothers with career opportunities available in home economics.

The speaker-panel representing various fields in Home Economics will be presented to the guests.

On the panel will be Maureen Kiley, food research assistant for McCormick-Shilling Co., Beth Kennedy, teacher in Parent-Child Relations and Nursery-School Teaching.

Helen Dillon, former high school home economics teacher and homemaker; and Jo Amer, clothing and textile specialist.

The Diablo Valley Home Economists group is composed of graduate home economists who are now "homemakers."

The aim of the organization is to keep abreast with recent developments in home economics and to engage in community service.

Members working on thisreception are Mrs. Glen Dillon, general chairman; Mrs. John Davis, invitation; Mrs. Dan Myers, refreshments; Mrs. Eugene Kampa, programs.

Mrs. Eugene Kania, publicity; Mrs. Paul Wilhelmsen, reception; Mrs. Milton Guilieri, decorations; and Mrs. Philip Langely will be mistress of ceremonies.

Lafayette Stores Soon Open Nights

Lafayette stores will be open nights Monday through Friday beginning December 6, it was announced.

Lafayette stores will also be open Saturday night, December 22, according to C. L. Odegard, president of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce.

Odegard said Lafayette merchants are preparing for the Christmas season by stocking the latest in quality household and apparel items.

R. Witherspoon Joins Hillside Realty Staff

Robert H. Witherspoon, veteran Berkeley realtor, has joined the staff of Hillside Realty in Lafayette, it was announced this week.

Witherspoon and his wife recently moved to the Glenside area of Lafayette after many years in Berkeley.

He is a past president of the Berkeley Realty Board.

Witherspoon spent many years as a realtor and developer in the Berkeley, Thousand Oaks, Cragmont and Kensington areas.

He was one of the developers of the Arlington Estates in the El Cerrito hills.

Elks Participate in Nat'l Youth Leadership Contest

Alfred Malnick, exalted ruler of Walnut Creek Elks Lodge, No. 1811, has announced the opening of the Elks National Youth Leadership Contest.

Malnick said that the leadership contest was designed to spur youth to follow the example of America's astronauts.

"These men exemplify the highest type of American leadership," Malnick declared.

"They did not develop their character and leadership abilities after their selection. Their historic achievements climaxed their training in school, church and community affairs and emphasize the importance of starting early in life to learn how to lead."

The contest, now in its 14th year, is open to boys and girls under 19 who compete in separate divisions on local, state and national levels, according to Malnick.

Entries are judged on their leadership achievements in school, church and community service activities, Americanism and citizenship appreciation, perseverance, resourcefulness and sense of honor.

The contest, participated in by more than 2000 Elks lodges, is sponsored by the order's youth activities committee under the chairmanship of E. Gene Fournace of Canton, Ohio.

First, second and third place winners of the national contest will receive U.S. Savings Bonds of $1000, $500 and $300, respectively.

Both the boy and girl winners of the state contest will receive $100 U.S. Savings Bonds.

First place Bay Area winners will receive $50 each U.S. Savings Bonds and second place winners will be given $25 U.S. Savings Bonds each.

Malnick also announced the appointment of a committee headed by Glenn E. Max, Walnut Creek Elementary School District administrator, to conduct the contest.

Entry forms and additional information has been given to all high schools in Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville and Alamo.

County 4-H Meets, Elects Officers

4-H Clubs from Danville, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill were among those represented at a county-wide training session for club officers held Saturday in Pittsburg.

Local Adults, Students Attend Red Cross Meet

To further the Red Cross youth program, a regional conference was held a tthe Golden Gate chapter in San Francisco Saturday.

Among the 300 chosen to attend, at least 12 were teenagers from Diablo Valley. The theme for this all day meeting was "New Vistas."

Fred Burrough, director of public information for Golden Gate chapter, who has just returned from six months assignment with International Committee of the Red Cross in Geneva, gave the opening address. Students chose discussion groups: International or Community Service.

Mrs. Richard T. Myer, chairman of Volunteers for the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter, American National Red Cross, was moderator for the Community Service Group. Peter Harmon of Orinda was a discussion leader and Peter Smyth, also of Orinda, served as recorder.

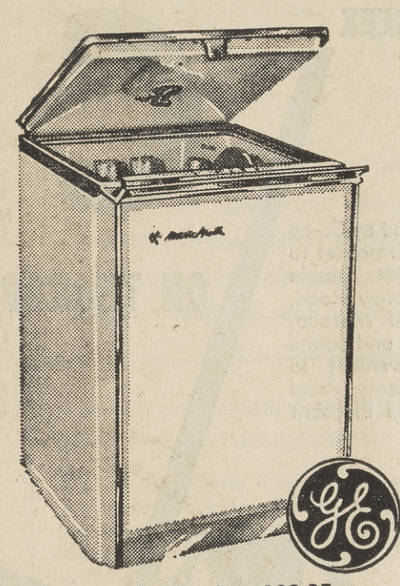

Also attending were Mike Yedidda, president of the Junior Class of Miramonte High School, Orinda; Gail Cannon, also of Miramonte High School, a junior gray lady and water safety aide, and Gail Walker of Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek, a junior gray lady.

Mrs. FlorenceHolcomb, assistant director of Junior Red Cross, Golden Gate Chapter, served as moderator of the International Group.

On conclusion of the panels, the two groups divided into discussion groups of 20.

With the background information from Burrough's speech and the panel discussions, new plans for additional service, international and community wise, were developed.

CO-OP

ON THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29

This is in response to demand by Co-op member families for a supermarket to serve the area south of Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Ygnacio Valley Road. And for those residents of Moraga, Lafayette, Alamo, Danville, and points south who find it inconvenient to patronize our store on Geary Road between Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill.

Watch for the details of the Grand Opening of Walnut Creek's second consumer-owned CO-OP supermarket!

You are invited

GRAND OPENING

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY, Nov. 29, 30 and Dec. 1

EVERYONE MAY SHOP CO-OP MEMBER OR NOT

Co-ops are people working together to help themselves . . . and each other

What's different about the Co-op?

Ownership It's owned by the people who use its services, the customers. Yes, we are the shareholders. We provide the capital and we select the Board of Directors, who serve without pay, who are dedicated only to serving the consumer-owners with the goods and services they wish. Every customer can be an owner. Shares are $5 each. Dividends for investments of $50 and over have been 4% for 13 years out of the past 15.

Prices Co-op's regular prices are set to be as low as the lowest in town. Our staff compares prices weekly and a committee of our membership makes unannounced market basket surveys at least quarterly. These have usually shown Co-op to be as low as or lower than comparable stores offering comparable quality and service. And, of course, there are advertised specials as well.

Patronage refunds After the books are closed each year all net income after taxes and reserves is returned to us member-owners as share dividends or refunds on purchases. Patronage refunds have averaged 3.2% over the past five years. For an average family that's equal to almost two-weeks supply of food.

Quality Co-op members like quality. Only USDA Choice beef is offered, well aged and well trimmed. And, besides the popular national brands, we like CO-OP LABEL merchandise in Red and Green Labels. Red is best. Green is economy, but just as nutritious. Informative Co-op labels are appreciated by Co-op members because we find them high in quality and lower in price. Over 750 items carry the consumer's own label: Co-op. And Co-op fresh produce enjoys a well-deserved reputation for being the most attractive in the community. Every fruit and vegetable on the market is carried if there is sufficient demand. It is fresh, clean, attractively trimmed and displayed.

Variety Here's another place where we Co-op members get what we want, from the candlelight-and-wine mood items to the plain whole-grains and nutrition-conscious diet packs. Foreign foods, new mixes, convenient foods, gourmet, whatever, you'll probably find it on Co-op shelves. Jerusalem artichokes? Anise? Taro root? Green ginger? Mock oyster root? Yes, you'll find them in season in Co-op produce display cases. And more. Even baby quail eggs and fried grasshoppers.

Extra Services We get whatever we want when enough of us want it and when it is economically feasible to provide it. For instance: Kiddie Korrals where pre-school children may be left safely to enjoy creative play under trained supervision while mother shops free and relaxed. Home Economists to show members and customers how to shop more intelligently, how to budget, how to buy and prepare food, how to understand problems of nutrition. Health Plan where members may obtain, through prepayment, high quality, comprehensive medical and hospital care through the Kaiser Foundation Hospitals and Permanente Medical Clinics.

On Geary Road and N. Main, Walnut Creek:
Service Station with Texaco gasoline and Texaco credit cards.
Credit Union, where Co-op members practice thrift with their savings and where they borrow money from a friendly source for short-term provident purposes.
Watchmaker—Thos Tenney Hi-Fi and Stereo Equipment and phonograph records.
Mutual Service Insurance: for home, family and car—life, fire, auto. And soon a Book Shop and a Pharmacy.

We'd like to have you drop in to have a cup of coffee with us during the grand opening.

The 4,000 member families in Central Contra Costa who own, control, and shop at the Co-op — and love it!

PLAN TO COME . . .

BRING YOUR KIDS AND YOUR NEIGHBORS

SEE what a new experience a consumers' co-op can be, how it can raise your standard of living, how it can be fun—and good business, too! Come and bring the whole family.

And while Sids is closed why not shop at the Co-op on Geary Road and No. Main, about 2½ miles north of town? No membership is needed.

Fall New England Color Can Come to Contra Costa

With those who live in Contra Costa, it's often a common complaint that fall is less colorful than it might be. And to an extent, the claim is well founded, for unless you plant it, autumn color is less than the miracle it is in New England.

The point is, however, that you can plan your garden to include fall color, and that is just what the California Association of Nurserymen recommends. Here especially, fall can be a season of change which approaches its eastern counterpart.

WE HAVE half dozen trees and several shrubs that take on autumn hues. Then there are the berried shrubs and a few seasonally conspicuous flowers — notably the chrysanthemums and a few late-blooming dahlias. So, you see, there's no excuse for lacking these signs of the times. You can make it look like fall by planting.

Among the trees which show fall coloring around here are the stately lombardy poplar, an especially vivid specimen in foothill areas; plus sweet gum and maidenhair trees which color up even in coastal setting. In the valley, all of these plus the scarlet oak are recommended by C.A.N. members.

For color from shrubs, try heavenly bamboo, an evergreen which turns so vividly you might think it was ready to drop its leaves. Among deciduous shrubs which do drop their leaves, the barberries are fine, but try also the common snowball and a mollis azalea or two.

VIRGINIA CREEPER is the principal color bearer among vines, unless you count the occasional grape variety which colors our countryside at vintage time.

For a quick shot of fall in our gardens, we always come back to the chrysanthemum. C.A.N. nurserymen have these wonderful garden standbys in full bloom this time of year, and nothing lends more seasonal impact. Try them on the deck, in the border or in the house. And don't, for heaven's sake, throw them away after they've bloomed.

Plant them in the ground and enjoy their fall color again next year.

High Fencing Gives Privacy

Do you have a corner lot with your house exposed to the prying eyes of every passerby?

Then here is the ideal solution. Convert your property into a courtyard, with high, solid board fences going right to the property line.

This is a style made famous by the Spaniards and brought to the New World in the fifteenth century.

With attractive fences, you can make a world of your own. You will find that every foot of your land is available for gardens.

These fences may be solid boards, to give maximum privacy, but you can also use a louvered fence with the slanted boards set so that no one can see in. Board-on-board fences also give maximum privacy without the feeling of being isolated.

What Happened To Your Summer Skin?

This is the time when many outdoor girls suddenly discover their complexion isn't as alive as it was in late summer.

The skin may be dry and rough. Or a fading tan may have a sallow, somewhat muddy appearance.

No make-up in the world will help this condition!

The problem is a simple case of too much sun, wind and water.

What can be done? Start now on a fall skin reconditioning program.

Instead of the daily soap and water scrub, use rich cleansing creams or special dry-skin lotions at night to remove make-up and grime.

Then use lots of Kleenex tissues to remove all traces of cream.

Next, lather the face and neck with more oily cream. Let this set a moment or two and wipe off with more clean tissues.

Take a bath while this second coating of oily cream sets on your face. The overall warmth in the room helps the oil penetrate.

Steam and cream your face this way regularly for at least a week.

Sauerkraut Can Be Made in Jar

Tangy sauerkraut can be made in a quart glass jar just as well as in an eight-gallon jug.

Directions for preparing both small and large quantities are given in a new Leslie Salt Company booklet of recipes for pickles, relishes, chutneys and, of course, sauerkraut.

LATE CABBAGE is the best kind to use and late fall is the best time to make sauerkraut, the booklet advises.

The basic procedure is simple: Add a small amount of dry salt to well washed and shredded cabbage, mix well, keep warm (75 to 80 degrees) and allow to ferment. Each five pounds of cabbage takes 3½ tablespoons of plain salt.

Pack the salted cabbage down firmly in a quart jar, cover with two or three thicknesses of clean white cheesecloth and criss cross two dry, clean wooden strips over the cloth and catch just under the neck of the jar. Wooden garden labels can be cut to fit. This device keeps the cabbage well below the level of the brine that soon forms.

KEEP CABBAGE covered with brine and free of scum.

Aging Process Outlined For Friendly Visitors

Realistic examination of attitudes towards aging was urged by the keynote speaker at a luncheon of the Friendly Visitor Service at their initial "report to the community" meeting held in Walnut Creek.

"There are three steps which can help to clarify our ideas about the older person and the modern family," Mrs. John Douglas of the San Francisco Catholic Diocese and chairman of the Catholic Committee for the Aged, said.

"These steps are:

"1) A realistic examination of our own attitudes towards aging for this reflects greatly in how we help older people and how they feel about themselves.

"2) Develop a better understanding of the aging process.

"3) Recognition that the pattern of family life and relationships are changing," she told the more than 100 guests and friendly visitors.

Mrs. Douglas said the aging process is clearly seen in three separate parts. These are the middle years which should be used to extend personal horizons in cultural and avocational interests which would carry over.

The second stage at about age 65 which brings withdrawal from the active working life and lessening of personal and community responsibilities. And the third step is that of physical deterioration, diminished functions and increased dependency, she said.

Karl Mahler, manager of the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross, served as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Lee Davenport, Jr., president of the Friendly Visitor Service, gave a short talk of welcome.

Recognition of the 50 volunteers from Central and East Contra Costa serving the Friendly Visiting Volunteer Program was extended to those able to attend.

Presidents of the six-community and tax-supported agencies were special guests.

These were the Rev. Philip Daunton, representing the Central Council of Churches; William Golden, director of social service department.

The Rev. Aron S. Gilmartin, president, Contra Costa County Mental Health Association; Mrs. John Selley, president, Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa.

Mrs. Richard T. Myer, chairman, Office of Volunteers for Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of American Red Cross; and Mason Roberts, chairman of the countywide Committee on Aging of the Council for Community Services.

Mrs. Robert Love of Lafayette served as planning committee chairman. L. A. Kimball, city manager of Walnut Creek, was also a special guest at the luncheon.

For further information on the program interested persons may call Mrs. Robert McClelland.

Wildlife Tour Is Presented At DV College

The second of Diablo Valley College's Audubon Wildlife tours, featuring the appearance of Kenneth Morrison, director of the famed Mountain Lake Sanctuary and Singing Tower at Lake Wales, Fla., was presented in the college gymnasium last week.

Morrison, a popular lecturer on nature subjects, commented on a full color film, "The Long Flight Back."

The film told the story of the last-ditch flight to save America's vanishing wildlife.

While the passenger pigeon, the Carolina parakeet, and the Labrador duck are irreplaceably gone, there is still hope for such wild beauties as the whooping crane, roseate spoonbill and the American flamingo, according to Morrison.

Technicians Needed by This County

X-Ray technicians are needed in Contra Costa County.

Positions are located in Pittsburg, Martinez and Richmond. One X-Ray technician will be appointed to the Richmond Health Center immediately. The salary is $406-$488 per month plus generous fringe benefits.

Requirements call for high school and two years of experience, including training in X-ray techniques and methods, under an accredited medical radiologist.

Interested persons are encouraged to write, call or stop by the Contra Costa County Civil Service Office, Room 229, Hall of Records, Martinez. Phone 228-3000, Ext. 415.

Applications must be submitted by November 30.

Downtown WC Stores Soon Open 5 Nights

Stores in downtown Walnut Creek will be open nights Monday through Friday, beginning December 3, according to Bill Smikahl, president of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce.

"This will enable people to shop during the evening hours, and will greatly assist family shopping," said Smikahl.

Realtors to Convention

J. N. Smith, president of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors, Ray Henry of Alamo, president-elect and Roger Jernigan, executive vice-president, praticipated in the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, held in Detroit.

The convention assembled realtors and their executive officers from the world over to include Hawaii, Canada, Europe and the Philippines.

$33 Million Bond Issue Sold

The fourth series of a $252-million bond issue, in the amount of $33 million, was sold last week by the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

Successful bidder for the Series D general obligation bonds was Bank of America, NT & SA, Wells Fargo Bank, Crocker-Anglo National Bank, and Associates.

They were awarded the bond issue on the basis of a net interest rate of 2.922 per cent. Other bidders were two syndicates, one headed by Halsey Stuart Company, the other by F. S. Smithers and Associates.

Nathan J. Sindelar, East Bay Water treasurer, said that the interest rate surpassed the low interest rates on the three previous bond issues, reflecting the continuing strong financial position of East Bay Water.

"This lower rate resulted from two causes — a stronger bond market and a shortened maturity schedule. We estimate we saved $3 million in interest costs over the life of the issue because of the shortened life of the bonds.

"This indicates the confidence of underwriters and investors in the future of East Bay Water and the area which it serves," he said.

Previous bond issues were: Series A, $25 million, February, 1959, interest rate 3.454 per cent; Series B, $30 million, August, 1960, 3.302 per cent; Series C, $30 million, January, 1962, 3.306 per cent.

The $252 million bond issue, approved overwhelmingly in 1958 by the voters, is financing the major portion of the current $283 million Water Development Program which will more than double East Bay Water's ability to deliver pure mountain water to the growing East Bay.

The program is past the half way mark, on schedule, and within the budget.

Needing only $41,000 for Contra Costa's 1962 fair share contribution, United Crusade campaigners throughout the county gave assurance today that they'll finish the job for community agencies dependent on the united fund for next year's operating expenses.

The local campaign rang up more than $61,000 last week to reach $231,307 or 84.7 per cent of goal, while the five-county fund advanced to 91.5 per cent with $10,289,685.

UBAC needs $960,316 more this year for agencies in Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

Reminding that "home" agencies in Contra Costa received $689,370 cash support from UBAC this year and are dependent on this campaign for next year's budget. County Chairman A. H. Batchelder said today his volunteer solicitors in every division will continue the county-wide "mop up."

"Every Contra Costa division is still running," he assured. "We haven't seen the bottom of the barrel in any area."

Strength of crusade campaigning in the county also showed up in the last audit of Bay Area divisions which have been running ahead consistently.

Major firms, covering all of Contra Costa's large "blue chip" industry, is at 99 per cent, accounting for $4,086,186.

Baldwin Speaks

Congressman John F. Baldwin spoke at a dinner meeting of the Home Builders' Association of Contra Costa County, held last night at the Concord Inn.

"The meeting was declared Ladies' Night again this year because of the great interest generated by Baldwin's past reports," said President Bruce Stringer.

The military division, which includes Concord Naval Ammunition Depot—over-the-top at 108 per cent itself and more to come—is at 115 per cent, with $336,728 collected.

Other Bay Area divisions which include Contra Costa contributors show state employees at 97.5 per cent; federal employees at 90.4, and advance gifts at 92.5 per cent.

TOMORROW NEVER COMES

PHONE US TODAY ABOUT LISTING YOUR PROPERTY FOR SALE!

WE SAY WHAT WE'LL DO!

We tell you in advance what price you can expect to get. We don't name an "extra-fancy" price just to get your listing and hope that you'll come down afterwards. We don't promise the moon and later deliver only a handful of stardust. We come down to "brass tacks" right away, and when we say we'll get you $15,000 you can bank on it. It'll be a cold day in July when we tell you $20,000 for a $15,000 home just to get the listing!

WE DO WHAT WE SAY!

Put a "proper price" on your home . . . that's the way to sell it quickly. Ask for TOO MUCH and you frighten people away! Ask to TOO LITTLE and before you know it, it's been grabbed off by someone who re-sells it later for a big profit. There's no . . . SUBSTITUTE FOR EXPERIENCE in selling Real Estate. We know the questions and answers that arise in the sale of property. This knowledge is at your disposal.

Portable Wall Will Be Used at I.V.

A portable wall will separate the additional rooms to be built at Inland Valley, so that they may be opened into one large room. The board of trustees approved this change in plans at their Monday night meeting.

Bids will open December 3 for the additions to I.V.'s four new classrooms, and Glorietta's four new classrooms.

Candy Stripers Brighten The Day at Area Hospitals

By DOROTHY S. FLOOD

How many of you have been inside a hospital recently? Whether visitor of patient, nothing could be more heartening than the smiling young faces of the "Candy-Stripers."

Always ready with a cheerful smile, friendly word and a wonderful enthusiasm for being of assistance whenever and wherever they're needed, these young people are one of the finest examples of "juvenile-decents."

At the present time 20 high schools in Contra Costa County have Future Nurse or Health Careers Clubs, which are sponsored by the Contra Costa Unit of the Women's Auxiliary to the Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association.

In eastern Contra Costa County alone, four hospitals have enthusiastically permitted members of these clubs, after a six-weeks training period, to gain some first-hand knowledge pertaining to a future nursing career.

OVER 6000 volunteer hours were contributed last year by the "Candy-Stripers."

Concord Community Hospital has opened its doors to members of Future Nurse Clubs from Acalanes, Clayton Valley, College Park, Mt. Diablo, Miramonte, San Ramon and Ygnacio Valley High Schools.

Pittsburg Community Hospital has participants from Pittsburg, Antioch and Brentwood High Schools.

Kaiser Hospital from Las Lomas High School, and Martinez Community Hospital from Pleasant Hill High School.

THE LAST class of 25 girls was trained by Mrs. Sol Draznin, president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Concord Community Hospital, Mrs. Tracy, third floor supervisor, Mrs. Chenowah, surgery and Mrs. Elmes, pediatrics supervisor, and are now working in Concord Hospital.

They are as follows:

Acalanes High School: Earlene Hinzman, Dianne LaField, Pat Keith and Susan Wallace.

Clayton Valley High School: Joyce Blanchly, Cheryl Brown, Judy Disbrow and Carole Rode.

College Park High School: Owen Jenny, Janice O'Malley, Sharon Torrey and Mary Pat Gee.

MIRAMONTE HIGH School: Sandie Carlisle, Ann Curtis, Miloanne Hecathorn, Ann Waters and Judy Wolff.

San Ramon High School: Loren Coates, Sandi Collar, Julie Tolman and Pam Wiget.

Ygnacio Valley High School: Barbara Dunn, Cheryl Gardner, Diane McAllister and Linda Torbet.

The next training period for "Candy-Stripers" will be held in the spring and all arrangements will be made through each high school Future Nurse or Health Careers Club.

Sun Orient Holiday Plans Announced by Publisher

Preliminary plans for "The Sun Orient Holiday," beginning Friday, April 19, and open to all residents of the area, have been announced by Sun Publisher Herman Silverman.

The Sun Orient Holiday, which in 21 days will include leisurely stopovers at such places as Honolulu, Tokyo, Formosa and Hong Kong, is the newest in a series of travel tours sponsored by The Sun, and which each time attracts an amiable group of travelers appreciative of the low cost.

Details of the trip, costs and schedule will be announced soon.

Information is available by calling The Sun at 284-4444 or 934-5000.

Preliminary stops include Honolulu, Tokyo, Nikko, Miyanoshita, Kyoto, Nara and Okaka.

Then Taipei, Formosa, capital of Free China, and Hong Kong.

Optional stops then include the Philippines or Hawaii on return trip.

The Sun extension trips also include Bangkok, Singapore and Malay, also Bali, Australia, New Zealand, Fiji and Tahiti.

All-Number Prefixes Will Be Extended in Bay Area

Pacific Telephone information operators will begin giving out all-number prefixes for "A" through "G" listings in the Oakland telephone directory.

A. C. Latno, Jr., telephone company division manager, said the move was another step in the progressive conversion to All - Number Calling (ANC) throughout the Bay Area.

About one-third of the Oakland directory has been changed since the conversion began in October, 1961.

Changes in the rest of the directory's information records will be completed within the next two months-listings from "H" through "O" will convert in December and those remaining in January.

The gradual conversions are in preparation for the new Oakland directory to be delivered next May. All its listings will have all-number prefixes.

Cities included in the directory are Oakland, Alameda, Albany, Berkeley, Emeryville, Kensington, Piedmont, San Leandro, and parts of El Cerrito and San Lorenzo.

Main reason for the changeover is "growth", Latno said.

"We're running out of usable combinations for telephone prefixes," he explained. "By changing to ANC we'll be sure of having sufficient numbers for the foreseeable future."

'Give Teenagers a Voice' Is Topic at Reception

An effort to give youth a voicetricts, covers their leisure time in the social problems of their communities began this week on the Diablo Valley College campus under sponsorship of the Contra Costa Council of Community Services.

Cooperating in the move, the Viking Student Council of DVC hosted representatives from 13 central county high schools at a reception.

The possibility of forming a community youth council was discussed. The reception followed a jazz festival concert presented as part of DVC's week-long homecoming celebration.

The proposed youth council, according to Mrs. Sigrid Deeds, associate director of CCS, would seek to pinpoint the social and recreational needs of central county youth and give teenagers a voice in developing, with outside assistance, their own leisure time programs.

CCS has already done considerable spadework in this field, Mrs. Deeds said. Subject was pursued further at a meeting at DVC for adult groups representing churches, service clubs, the county probation and parks departments, and organizations such as the United Crusade, YMCA, girl and boy scouts, 4-H, and the like.

Mrs. Deeds said copies of a "Teen Time Study," initiated by CCS in March of 1961, will be distributed for the first time. The study, considered representative of 11,586 students of the Mt. Diablo Unified, Acalanes, and San Ramon high school dis-activities while not in school.

It shows, on an average, that teen-agers, spend almost 25 per cent of their time engaged in self-generated activities by themselves or with friends, 17.6 per cent on homework, 11.3 per cent in family activities, and 10.2 per cent involving use of a car.

Surprisingly, participation in activities sponsored by public recreation agencies and youth organizations was far down the list, 3.2 and 1.4 per cent of total

Health Officer Says 'Have a Good Holiday'

Sincere wishes for a happy and healthful holiday season were expressed recently by Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer. Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Years means that many homes will be filled with excitement, confusion, and spicy odors, he noted.

Dr. Blum pointed out, however, that the happy holiday season is frequently not so happy for many individuals or families. "In this time of holiday hustle and bustle, inadequate ofod storage and preparation often results in a home outbreak of food poisoning," he said.

Most of these outbreaks are caused either by bacteria which multiply rapidly when food is kept at room temperature for long periods of time or by the poison which they produce, the doctor explained.

Many questions regarding proper food preparation and storage are received by the Health Department at this time of the year.

In order to lower the hazard of food poisoning and prevent unnecessary illness during the holiday season Dr. Blum urges Contra Costa citizens to read and use the following seven easy rules for safe food:

1. Keep cold foods cold—hot foods hot. Don't let foods stand at room temperature.
2. Keep hands clean and touch food with hands as little as possible.
3. Don't let anyone with a skin infection or a cold, handle food.
4. Avoid preparing sandwiches in advance, or allowing them to stand without refrigeration.
5. Any foods which cool or heat slowly, such as stuffings, should be prepared freshly and promptly cooked on the morning of the day served.

State Highways Receiving More Federal Money

California will receive an additional $43 million in federal-aid funds for fiscal year 1964 to continue its highway program, the California State Automobile Association reported.

This is in addition to the $248 million apportioned to California for construction of the Interstate System highways in the state.

According to the CSAA the $43 million is for use in improving main highways, secondary roads and urban arterial streets included in the federal-aid primary and secondary highway systems — the so-called ABC federal-aid program.

The new apportionment of funds was made possible by the enactment of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1962, signed into law recently by President Kennedy.

The ABC funds are apportioned among the states according to formulas established by the federal-aid legislation which takes into account the relative population, area and rural road mileage in each state.

The states must match the ABC federal funds on a 50-50 basis except that in those western states that have large areas of public lands the federal share is proportionately greater.

CHP Officer Davis Assigned

Traffic officer William Alan Davis, of Walnut Creek, has been assigned to the Barstow Area of the California Highway Patrol following graduation from the Patrol Academy in Sacramento recently.

The graduation rite marked completion of 16 weeks training for 68 new traffic officers.

Library Lists Christmas Book Gifts for Kids

National Children's Book Week was celebrated November 11-77 in Central Pleasant Hill Library, the 21 branch and station libraries, and two bookmobiles in the Contra Costa County Library system.

The theme "I Like Books" was depicted in a color poster designed by the beloved illustrator of children's books, Kate Sereoy.

Bookmarks and streamers, the latter designed by Charles Schulz, featuring Snoopy of "Peanuts" fame and captioned in Spanish and French as well as English, call attention of children and their elders to this special week, sponsored by the Children's Book Council, Inc.

"Children's Gift Books," an annotated book list of recommendations for parents, aunts, uncles, godparents, and everyone with the urge to make a gift to a favorite child, has been prepared for county-wide distribution under direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Lockhart, coordinator of Children's Services in the county library system.

Copies of the list are available free at the central library, 1750 Oak Park Boulevard.

The Sun

'The Night' Is Senior Class Play

The senior class of San Ramon Valley High School presented "The Night Is My Enemy" last weekend in the school's Little Theater.

Directed by John Cretan, in his second year as drama instructor at San Ramon High, the mystery starred Becky Pascoe in the lead role of the blind girl, Roanne Shepperly.

Becky, the American Field Service exchange student from South Africa, played the British girl.

Supporting Becky were Chris Steward as Tessie, a cockney maid; Sharon Rose, Margaret Biller, the middle aged servant; Paul Kremser, the childlike Hubert Biller; Sue Baron, the striking looking Hester Fontaine; Victoria Renaldi, glamorous Augusta Garvey.

Bob Arbios, good-looking Gerald Clayton; Bill Bechtel, dedicated Ora Fontaine; Rick Potter, Hubert Biller, a dedicated man servant; and George Wagner, inspector Rodney Church.

Donald Parr and Mrs. Ellen Lawson assisted the director as technicians.

The backstage crew was headed by stage manager Dick Bohr with assistance from Craig Lubbock, house manager; Norm Rhett, lights; Mary Jane Burns, properties; Joan Hammond, costumes, and Ann Stone, makeup.

True wisdom is to know what is best worth knowing, and to do what is best worth doing.

Auxiliary Holds Joint Luncheon

The Women's Auxiliary to the Contra Costa County Pharmaceutical Association Wednesday held a luncheon and joint board meeting with the San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa County Pharmaceutical Associations, at the Claremont Hotel, Berkeley.

The board meeting was attended by Mrs. Naldera Reese, state president of the California Pharmaceutical Auxiliary, and Mrs. Selma Roache, state secretary.

Additional Nine-Hole Course Is Considered

Addition of a nine-hole golf course to the existing 18-hole golfing facilities at Tilden Regional Park is now under consideration by the East Bay Regional Park Board.

The board approved a recommendation by William Penn Mott, Jr., general manager, to spend $1500 on a development study and preliminary survey by Robert Graves of Lafayette, golf course architect.

Three possible locations for the nine-hole course are now under consideration, Mott said.

Should the new golfing facilities prove feasible under the study, he added, the board will appropriate an additional $3000 for architect's fees.

Funds for the new nine-hole course would be raised through a 25-cent increase in the present green fees, Mott explained.

This method has already been approved unanimously by the Tilden Park Golf Course Improvement Committee, headed by Douglas Stiehl of Berkeley.

The additional revenue will be specifically earmarked only for construction of new golf courses. Denver, following this plan, builds one new golf course every two years.

Board chairman Leroy Goodrich presided at the board meeting which considered the golfing plan.

Others present were Clyde Woolridge and John Macdonald.

Complete rehabilitation of the present 18-hole Tilden Golf Course is now under way, but will be conducted hole-by-hole so as not to interfere with public play.

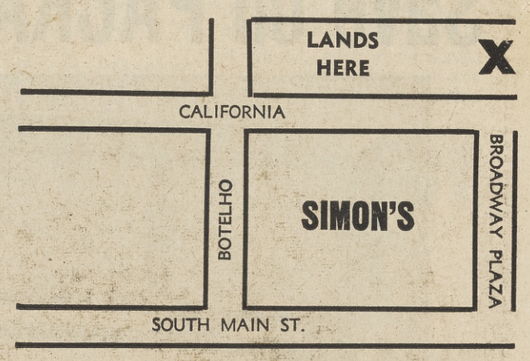

Regional Parks' Superintendent Wesley Adams and Tilden Golf Course Supervisor Maury Carpenter are in charge of the improvement program.
